High Flight

*Oh, I have slipped the surly bonds of earth,
And danced the skies on laughter-silvered wings;
Sunward I've climbed and joined the tumbling mirth
Of sun-split clouds—and done a hundred things
You have not dreamed of—wheeled and soared and swung
High in the sunlit silence. Hov'ring there,
I've chased the shouting wind along and flung
My eager craft through footless halls of air.
Up, up the delirious, burning blue
I've topped the wind-swept heights with easy grace,
Where never lark, or even eagle, flew;
And, while with silent, lifting mind I've trod
The untrespassed sanctity of space,
Put out my hand, and touched the face of God.*

—John Gillespie Magee Jr.

Edison, Our School . . .

Under the supervision of the Harry Findley Construction Company a new twenty-five room wing has been added to the school. Edison's new addition is two floors and houses chemistry, math, foreign language, and English rooms. This new wing is one more step in helping Edison students gain the academic excellence required in today's progressive world.

Inspires Us to Reach Higher Goals . . .

Realizing that education is the key to success, Edison students show their desire to learn in their daily activities. They attempt to bridge the gap of understanding between nations through the A.F.S. program and by enjoying our heritage of literature from Shakespeare to Sallinger.

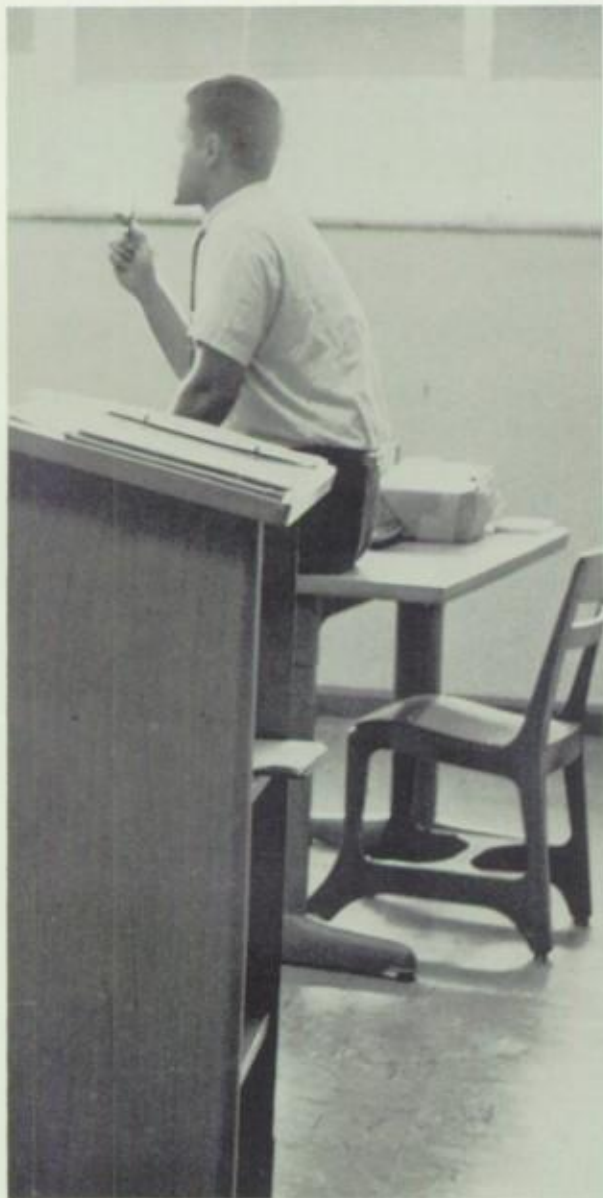

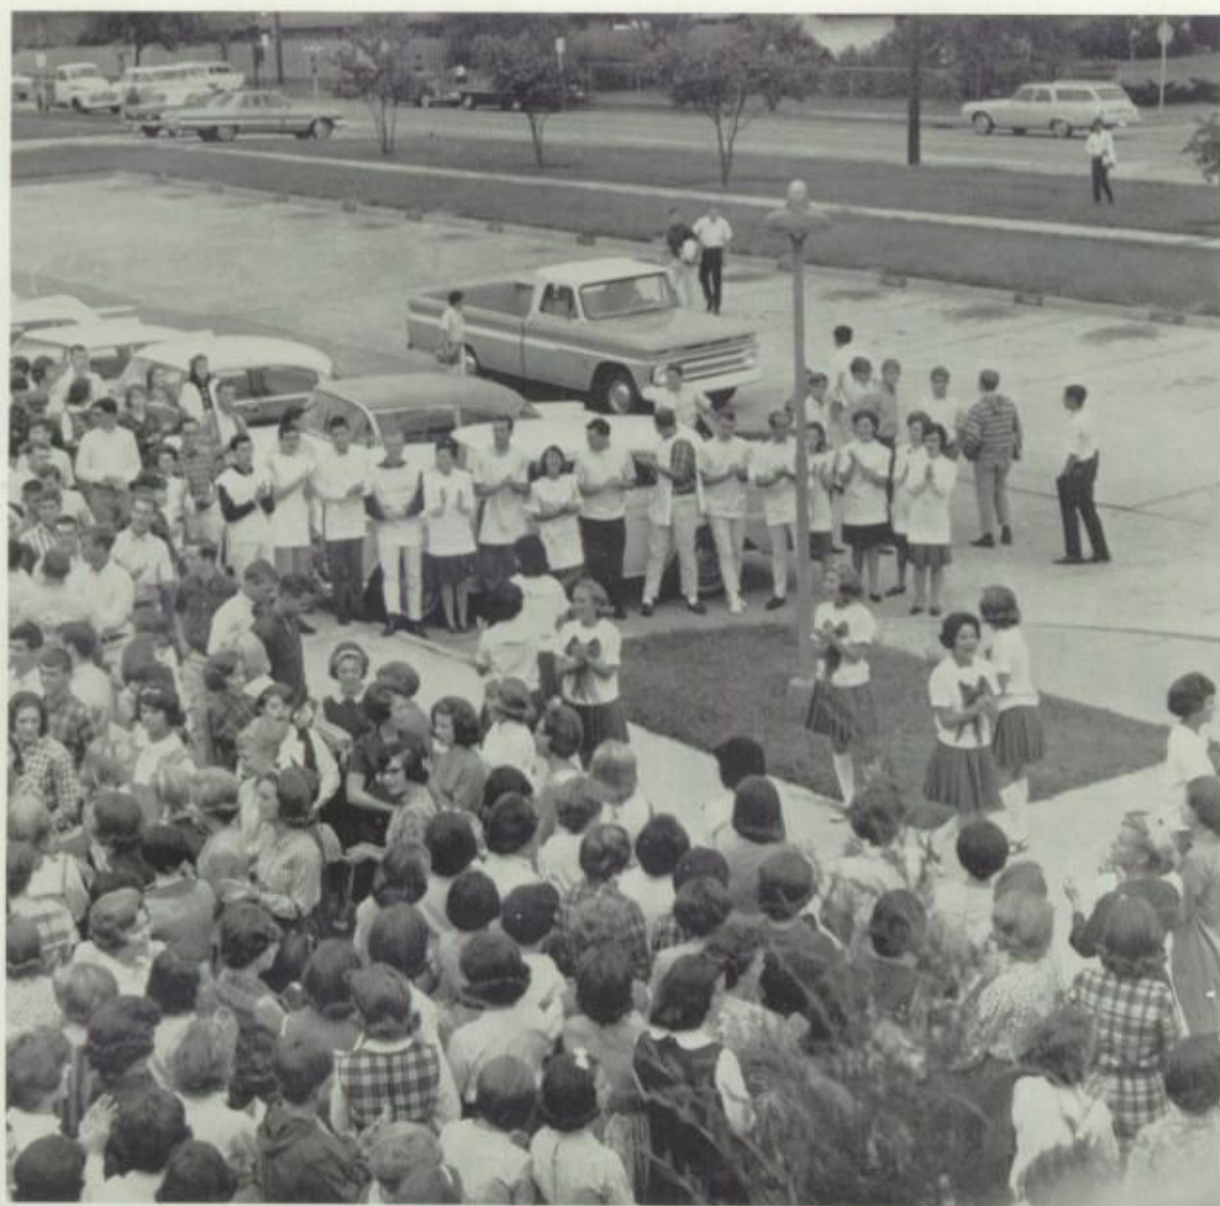

In previous years, Edison High School students have attained excellence in scholastic endeavor, which is exemplified by the twenty-six National Merit Scholarship Semi-Finalists. Both faculty and students are dedicated to maintaining and improving this record. This cannot be accomplished without hard work, time, effort, and diligent study.

Through Study . . .

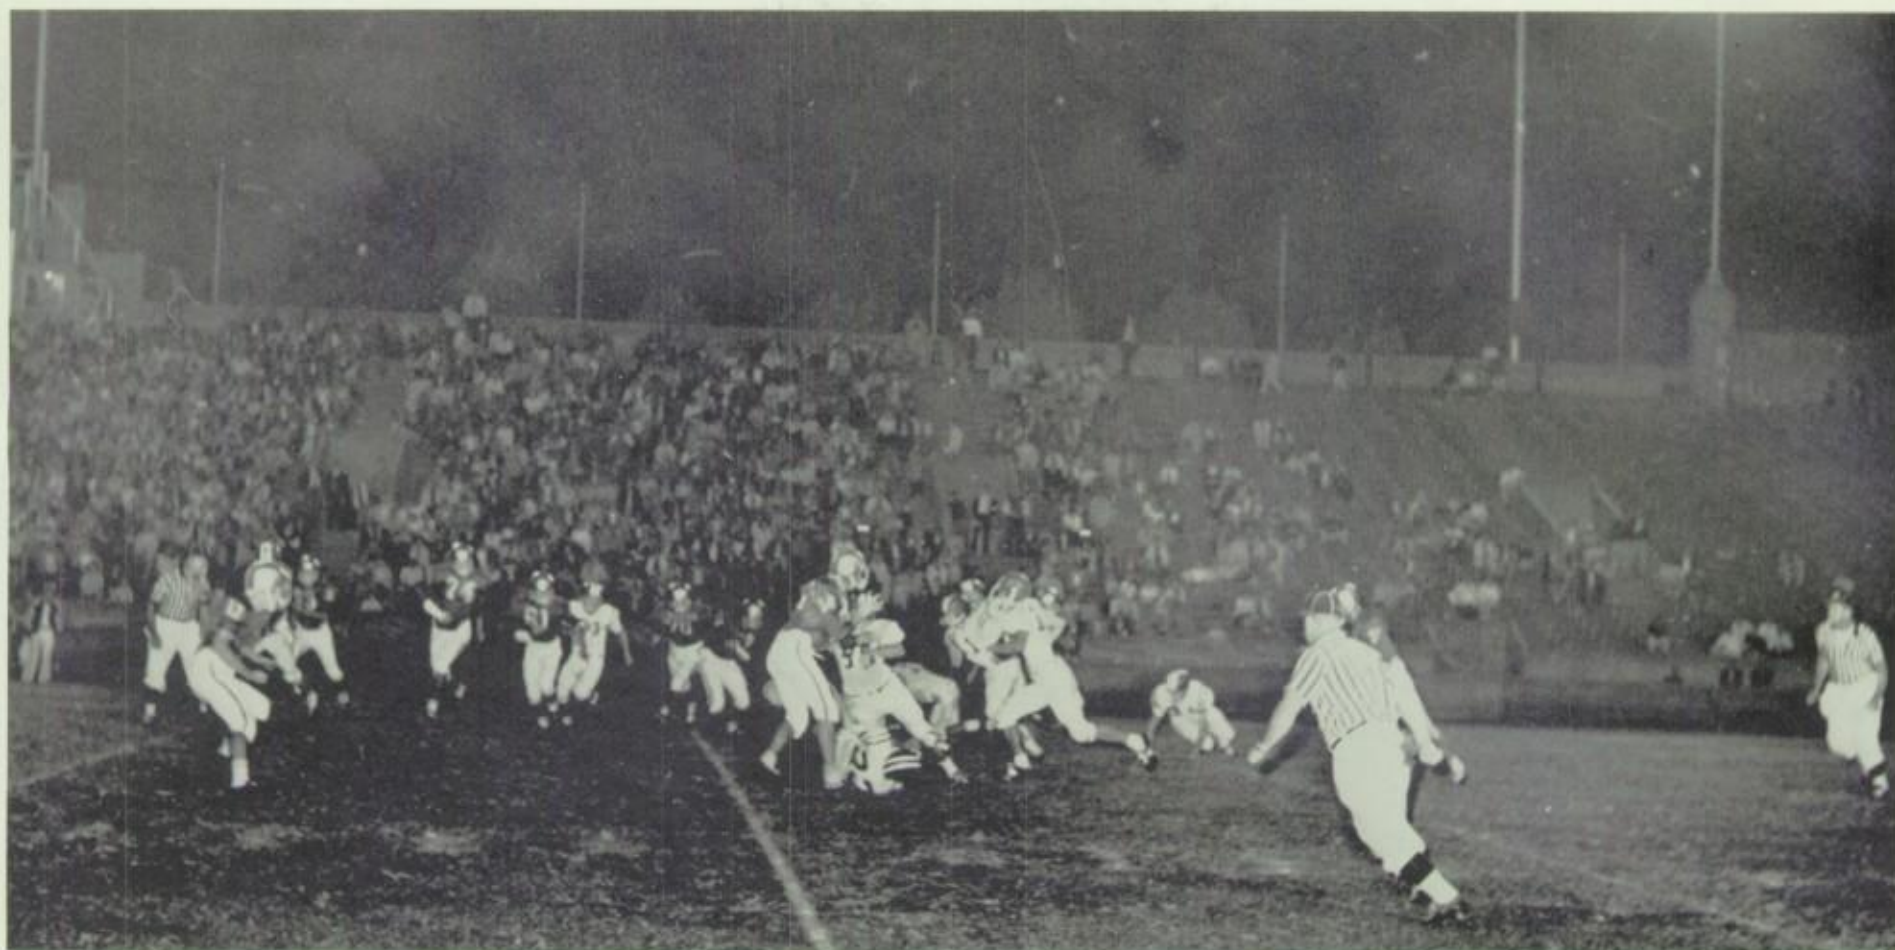

Extracurricular activities play an integral part in the lives of all Edison students. By enthusiastic participation in pep rallies, school-sponsored clubs, and homeroom activities, we grow in esprit de corps. This spirit of cooperative participation which exists in the student body has been a great factor in building the enviable reputation which Edison enjoys. No project has been too extensive for this student body to culminate successfully, whether it be related exclusively to school, or extended into the wider community of civic enterprise.

Administration

Since 1944, Dr. Charles C. Mason has served as Superintendent of the Tulsa Public Schools. In this period of time the system has changed from a small, compact system to a large, metropolitan system covering approximately 140 square miles over 90 different buildings. The teaching personnel totals over 2700 and the student population rose to over 75,000 during the year.

Besides his excellent work as chief administrator of the Tulsa School system, Dr. Mason also acts as executive officer of the Tulsa Board of Education. Legal voters of the district elect the members of the board for three-year terms. These members are civic minded citizens who further the aims of education and serve without remuneration.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

LAHMAN D. JONES

Standing as a constant reminder of the excellence of education in the Tulsa Public Schools, the Education Service Center serves as the coordinator of Tulsa's educational endeavors.

Edison is extremely proud of its numerous achievements—its scholarships, its outstanding reputation as a scholastic institution, and its prowess on the athletic field. These accomplishments were largely inspired by the outstanding leadership we are so fortunate to possess in our principal, Mr. Lewis Cleveland. The example of the lighthouse in the following quotation by H. W. Beecher aptly describes our principal:

Every man should use his intellect, not as he uses his lamp in the study, but as the lighthouse uses its lamps, that those afar off on the sea may see the shining light and learn their way.

Mr. Lewis Cleveland has guided many Edisonites over the numerous pitfalls of their educational experience.

Through the many aspects of his job, Mr. Cleveland must meet and confer with people throughout the state. Although his busy schedule prevails, he courteously pauses for a picture at the Skelly Petroleum Building.

Mr. Cleveland takes a moment for a break during one of his busy days.

Junior and senior high nurses, Mrs. Evelyn Duncan and Mrs. Virginia Washburn, are always willing and ready to aid ill or injured students while at school.

Proper guidance is the key to success. We learn by following, and therefore following the correct example is extremely important. We are especially fortunate to have counselors and administrators who are deeply concerned with the future of the student body, and who work diligently to guide each student to a thorough and wholesome education. These people have given us invaluable assistance during our junior high and high school years, and the example they have set has helped to lay a strong foundation for the future. Such a foundation has provided a basis for the structure of a more perceptive and understanding individual who shall be prepared to meet the challenges of an ever-changing world.

Junior and senior high assistant principals, Mr. Roger Kruse and Mr. Donald Hoopert, who undertake much responsibility in their daily jobs, pause for a break during early morning classes.

As senior high deans, Mr. Jerrel Beller and Dr. Sarah Burkhart have numerous responsibilities to the school and faculty.

Mrs. Charlene Clark willingly provides Ronnie King with excellent advice concerning his future education.

As junior high counselor, Mr. George Fowler must make available every opportunity for a successful start toward higher learning.

Keeping our office in efficient working order are from front to back, Mrs. Orlene Blake, Mrs. Emma Lee Cerny, Mrs. Joann Clannin, Mrs. Lorena George, Mrs. Pearl Cunliffe, and Mrs. Ruth Bolt.

Senior High English

Three years of English include the study of literature and writing. Through composition, each student is taught to express himself clearly and concisely. Through the analytical study of classical and contemporary literature, each student begins to understand the motivations of both the author and the characters, and in this way, learns to understand the many facets of human nature. When he leaves Edison, the student carries with him the insight he has gained from three years of study.

Roger Love is one of many students who depends on Bethel Delay, Senior High librarian, to keep him informed on good background literature.

To increase their interest and understanding of medieval times, part of the ninth grade English curriculum, Mr. Lester Goodson's students prepare posters and reports in specific areas.

Mrs. Berna Dean Morrow, one of Edison's outstanding English teachers, rewards the efforts of her students by presenting an interesting and outlined English program.

Science

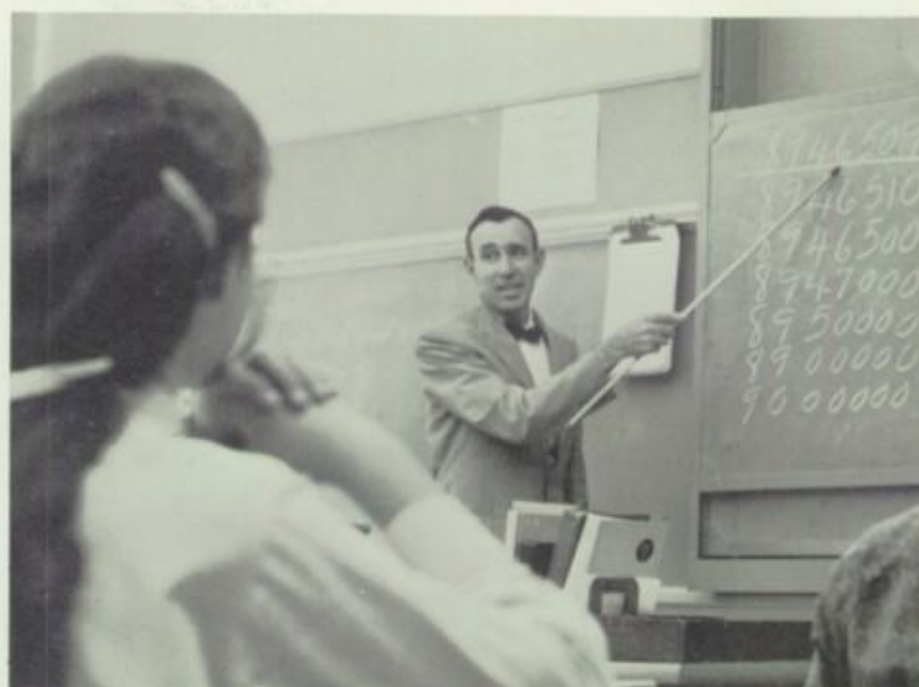

Every day man is making newer and more complicated scientific discoveries. To keep its student body aware of these new advances, Edison has provided its students with an opportunity to obtain an extensive knowledge into the fundamentals of science. The courses including general and physical science, physiology, biology, chemistry, and physics, build a strong foundation and provide the incentive which Edison graduates carry to technological schools across the nation.

To more vividly illustrate the difference in anatomies to Jane Musgrove, Mr. Ayres compares that of the frog to the more highly specialized anatomy of a man.

Mr. Postier takes a part of each class period to discuss previous homework and new theorems for the geometry student.

Mr. Robertson realizes as he instructs his beginning seventh grade students that success in more advanced math courses depends greatly on a sturdy background.

Mathematics

Mathematics is designed to encourage the student to use his logic and ingenuity. At Edison the student has the chance to demonstrate his ability to think by taking advanced courses including analytic geometry and calculus, and the new SMSG program. It is the result of such programs that the Edisonite has a firm foundation for his future endeavors.

Speech

Speaking is an activity that you learn; begun as an initiative process, it becomes a habit. Speech is total personal communication. And the only rule in speech is to communicate effectively. Good speakers are not born, they are made. And each one is made by himself. Since speech proves to be a vital part of any successful person, the Edison student is provided with excellent instruction in this field by those who know their subject well. Active participation in plays, assemblies, and skits increase the students' speaking and acting abilities and provides him with a measure of enjoyment that can be gained through no other field.

Music is such an important part of a well-rounded individual that the development of musical talent is greatly encouraged by Edison through a variety of music classes. Much interest is given the more advanced musician as well as the beginner by the excellent faculty directing the school's music courses. Being fine musicians themselves, these teachers are fully aware of the benefits of musical talent and hope to develop it successfully in every one of their pupils.

Physical Education

Mrs. Laurann Rogers, senior high gym teacher, displays active interest as she referees a bully, one of the many skills she has taught her classes, between Norma Stroud and Kay Wheatley.

It has been said that a man must be physically strong to be mentally alert. In keeping with this philosophy, the students are encouraged to participate in the athletic program. For the student who wants to enter competitive athletics, Edison offers interscholastic competition, and for others intramural athletics.

Business Education

Vocational training is a necessity to the student who plans a career in the world of business. To prepare these students for the time to come, Edison's business education department offers basic training in typing, accounting, shorthand, and the operation of business machines. When the future businessman leaves Edison, he can build upon the firm foundation he has already established.

Art

High school art is an introduction into the humanities. Basic art ushers the student into the world of aesthetics and begins to develop his appreciation of beauty. More advanced courses challenge his creativity and encourages him to grasp the deep meaning of true beauty. For the student who is deeply motivated by the humanities, Edison offers a course in related arts, which teaches him the relationship between painting, sculpture and architecture.

The guiding hand of Mrs. Sue Johnson has encouraged many art students to create beautiful and original works which might have been left uncreated.

Foreign Language

The world is continually changing and its population is continually expanding. These changes have made our international society a complex and cosmopolitan community. Such a society demands that we intermingle and understand our contemporaries. No longer may we withdraw ourselves from international affairs. We must integrate ourselves into the community of nations of the world, and to be able to do this we must be able to converse in languages alien to the English-speaking world. Edison offers its students an opportunity to take as many as six years of foreign language. These courses may enable the student to cross the language barrier and become a part of an internationalized globe.

Homemaking

Edison offers an outstanding home economics course. It includes special activities in clothing, foods, housing, health, consumer buying, child care, and management of time, money and energy in homemaking.

To display efforts and experience gained throughout the year, students give style shows, prepare entire meals, and simple teas.

Mrs. Willie B. Hamilton points out errors in a display of home baked and prepared cookies to Lynn Brussel. Mrs. Hamilton's food classes serve many teachers' meetings and teas.

Industrial Arts

Development of manual skills through Edison's industrial arts department begins with basic skills and ranges through the more advanced areas such as electronics. These skills, requiring dexterity and mechanical inclination, provide excellent vocational preparations, as well as further practice for hobbies begun outside of the classroom. Included in Edison's industrial arts program are: basic drafting, machine drafting, architectural drafting, electronics 1 and 2, power mechanics, and in the junior high are wood-work techniques, and metalcraft. Participation in these courses prepare students to do the basic repairs in most households and provide incentive to further investigate vocational fields which interest them. The atmosphere of the industrial arts workshops produces a feeling of camaraderie as the students work on individual projects as well as sharing responsibility for group projects.

Social Studies

The records of the past are an unrolled scroll of prophecy. They offer man the clues into the causes and effects of his past actions, and teach him lessons which may help him to ameliorate society for future generations. Edison offers its student body a wide selection of courses which may unroll these lessons before them, so that they, too, may be able to better the future.

Student Life

The sophomore class presents a collection of framed portraits of Thomas Edison to our school at the superlative assembly during Edison Week.

The flag raising is a ceremony of inspiration and devotion.

Each year in commemoration of our namesake we celebrate Edison Week. This year, chairman Roger Boesche, working with Mr. Dobelbower and various committee chairmen, Judy Johnson, Jeanne Heuser, Marsha Miller, Ken Shoemaker, and Janine Henshaw, helped to make this Week an unparalleled success.

Monday, School Spirit Day, commenced with a pep rally in the field house and was followed by the launching of our weather balloon. On Tuesday, in honor of Teacher's Appreciation Day, a luncheon was given for the teachers by the student council. Tuesday evening, a motion picture thriller, the "Blob" was shown in the auditorium. The Brotherhood Breakfast was held Wednesday morning. Also, in commemoration of Brotherhood Day, a wishing well was placed in the foyer with contributions going to CARE. Thomas Edison Day opened with the traditional flag raising ceremony. A program on the life of Thomas Edison was presented on the intercom and, at 7:30 in the field house, the annual Gridiron talent show was held. Edison Week climaxed with the announcement of student superlatives and Mr. Edison.

Greta Minsky offers dessert to Mrs. Zachariae and Mrs. Ables at the teachers' luncheon sponsored by the student council.

Edison students combine comedy with talent to provide entertainment at the Gridiron show, a riotous production.

The unique portrayal of a typical homeroom, presented in the Gridiron show, is characterized by constant talking, loud arguments and outbursts of disturbances.

Edison Week

Candidates for Mr. Edison are Steve Kaplan, Drew Neville, Alan Fedman, Russell Bock and Jim Kothe, who is not pictured.

"Pooh" is presented to Mr. Markham by his appreciative homeroom on Teacher's Appreciation Day.

The Student Council welcomes students from fifteen Tulsa schools to the annual Brotherhood Breakfast.

George Singer leaves for Capetown, South Africa, where he will spend a year as an American Field Service exchange student.

Anne Scruton, who visited Scotland during the summer, and Lonnie Donovan, who attended school in Sweden, are concocting Swedish meatballs for a party given by the exchange students for the foreign exchange committee.

Mrs. Cole, faculty foreign exchange sponsor, with Merry Ellen Evans and Gail Groom, browse through the selections of the paperback bookstore in the school foyer.

Edison's exchange programs include more participants than any other school in this part of the nation. Don Brown, Merry Ellen Evans, Gail Groom, Patti Luttgen and Mike Solow eagerly await their trips abroad.

International understanding is the key to world peace. Student exchange programs strive toward this goal and give participants the opportunity to recognize attitudes and customs other than their own. Through exchanges, a person learns to accept the weaknesses, and respect the strengths found in foreign mannerisms, and therefore, may better understand his own nation's influence upon its people.

The past year at Edison has been characterized by tremendous expansion of the foreign exchange program, largely brought about through the efforts of Mrs. Presley Ford, former Edison exchange committee president, Mrs. Martha Cole, faculty sponsor, and Dr. Burkhart, president of Edison's student exchange committee. Student Council sponsored a candy sale to aid the program, and the Foreign Exchange Paperback Bookstore, headed by Richard McIntyre, chairman, and Melinda Cole, co-chairman, has also made helpful contributions.

Danielle Priasco, an International Student Placement Service student from Paris, and Fernando Mendoza Castells, an American Field Service student from Spain, have attended Edison this year. Anne Scruton spent the summer of 1964 in Scotland under the Experiment in International Living. Three Edison students returned from abroad in January: Tricia Lewis brought her sister, Cora Martinez, back from Argentina; Lonnie Donovan returned from Stockholm, Sweden, where he had lived under ISPS, the program which also sponsored Francie Marks, who attended the Katedralskole in Aalborg, Denmark.

Talking on the telephone is one of Danielle Priasco's favorite habits, whether she is in Tulsa or in her native Paris.

Danielle and Fernando have a riotous snowball fight between classes.

Edison's own Spanish guitarist is Fernando Jose Antonio Mendoza Castells Fernandez Sales Marie del Campo Mendez Pidel from Huelva, Spain.

Foreign Exchange

Tricia Lewis, at right, was fortunate enough to be able to bring her Argentinean sister, Cora Gonzalez, back to Edison with her.

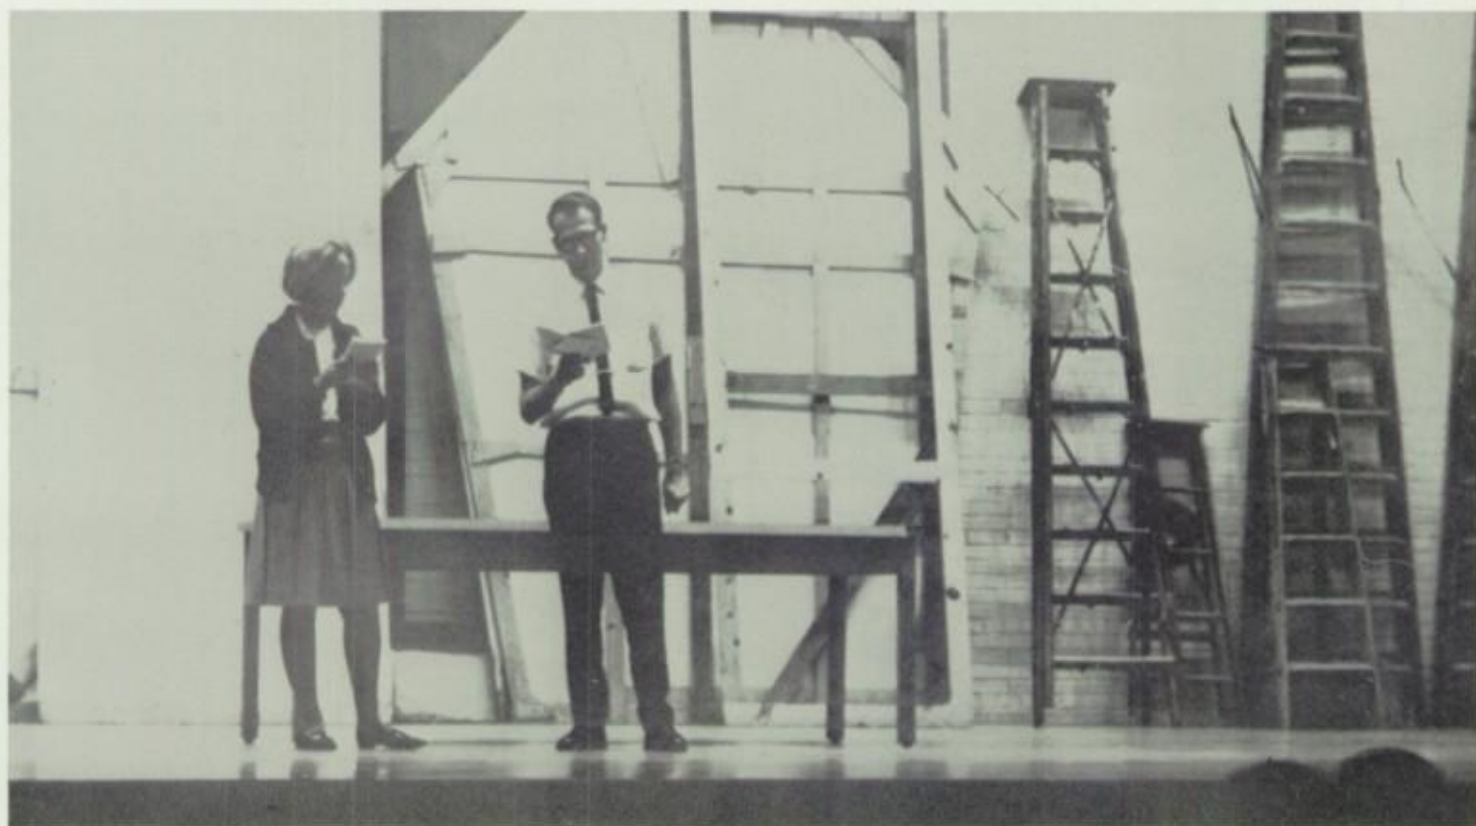

Homecoming is one of the exciting events of an exchange student's trip. Francie Marks is welcomed at Tulsa International Airport by her family and friends upon her return from Aalborg, Denmark.

The intangible atmosphere of Edison

Staff members taking a break near our new building are Mary Alice Baldwin, Betty Sipes, Marilyn Manton, Lynn Moore, Francie Marks, and Mike Tipton.

Arthur Fox shows his amazement at his gift presented to him at our annual Christmas party.

Snowballing is one of the many talents of some of our staff members.

Mr. Jim Smith, our industrious sponsor, is known for his undying patience and understanding. He obviously enjoys working with the staff.

Nancy Remy, editor, with assistant editors, Vicki McNickle and Stan Symanski, and Bill Dunn, business manager, study details of past layouts.

Concerned with the selection of the best picture are Sharon Andress, Tom Spleth, Suzanne Hall, and Sandy Proscovec.

Yearbook Staff

Producing a celebrated yearbook requires that hours be devoted each day by dedicated students. These exceptional people are chosen during the spring of each year. They are expected to draw layouts, write copy, select a cover and, in the end, produce a yearbook. A yearbook is the result of many combined efforts. Its purpose is to arouse memories at the close of the year and in the years to come to provide a pictorial record of some very happy moments.

Nancy Remy, our petite editor, consoles us at deadline time, when we are all on the verge of suicide.

A special feature of our annual Christmas party is the delicious dinner.

Bob Losure, editor

School Life

The job of the journalism staff is to reflect the life of Edison High School in its publications. These students cover activities in the "Southside Times," "No-side Times," and "School Life." Their articles must be written in such a way that they will be both entertaining and interesting to the reader.

Mrs. Carney is quizzed by Donna Winer for a future article for "School Life".

The staff assembles for a briefing by Bob Losure, editor.

Farewell, Farewell, Eugene

The Junior Class play, Farewell, Farewell, Eugene, was presented in the Edison High School auditorium on December 4 and 5.

Gertrude Pavis, played by Sandra Vale, is an elderly spinster who becomes involved with an abandoned child found on her doorstep. She and her sister, Minerva Pavis Goody (Jeanne Shirley) come to love the child. However, after several weeks, the community welfare agency threatens to take charge of the baby. Peonie Pavis (Lynn Moore), Gertrude's cousin, and her fiance Chuck Bailey (Bill McCright) eagerly adopt the child. The play ends happily with the entire family together at last.

Winnie-the-Pooh, one of the greatest financial successes in Edison's history, was presented on February 26 and 27.

The narrator, Judy Fell, tells bedtime stories to Christopher Robin and Winnie-the-Pooh. These tales concern the adventures of that loveable bear of very little brain, Pooh. Timid Piglet, the intellectual Owl, and Eeyore fear Kanga, a fierce animal, and her offspring, Roo.

Finally, Kanga and Roo find a happy place in the forest and join in Winnie's birthday celebration.

Senior High School

Steve Kaplan consults other members of Student Council concerning a forthcoming event.

Student Council represents a forum for the discussion of student affairs and a liaison between the faculty and the students. The activities of Council may vary from year to year, but the philosophy remains the same: to further the ideals and principles of democracy and to influence students to become better citizens and leaders. The motto of this year's Student Council is "We pledge to learn through service."

In keeping with the goal of furthering democracy, the Council sponsored a Mock General Election on November 3, 1964, in which the students who had registered could vote for President, Vice-President, senator, and congressman. November was Foreign Exchange Month, during which time Foreign Exchange Booklets were introduced and sold, and funds were raised through the candy sale.

Over fifteen thousand cans were collected for the Salvation Army in the annual canned goods drive, where Miss Can III was elected from Mr. Alexander's homeroom. Profits from the Christmas Post Office and singing Christmas cards were donated to the Tuberculosis Society.

Below: Marina Wienecke signs as a worker during Edison Week. Many willing workers did the same.

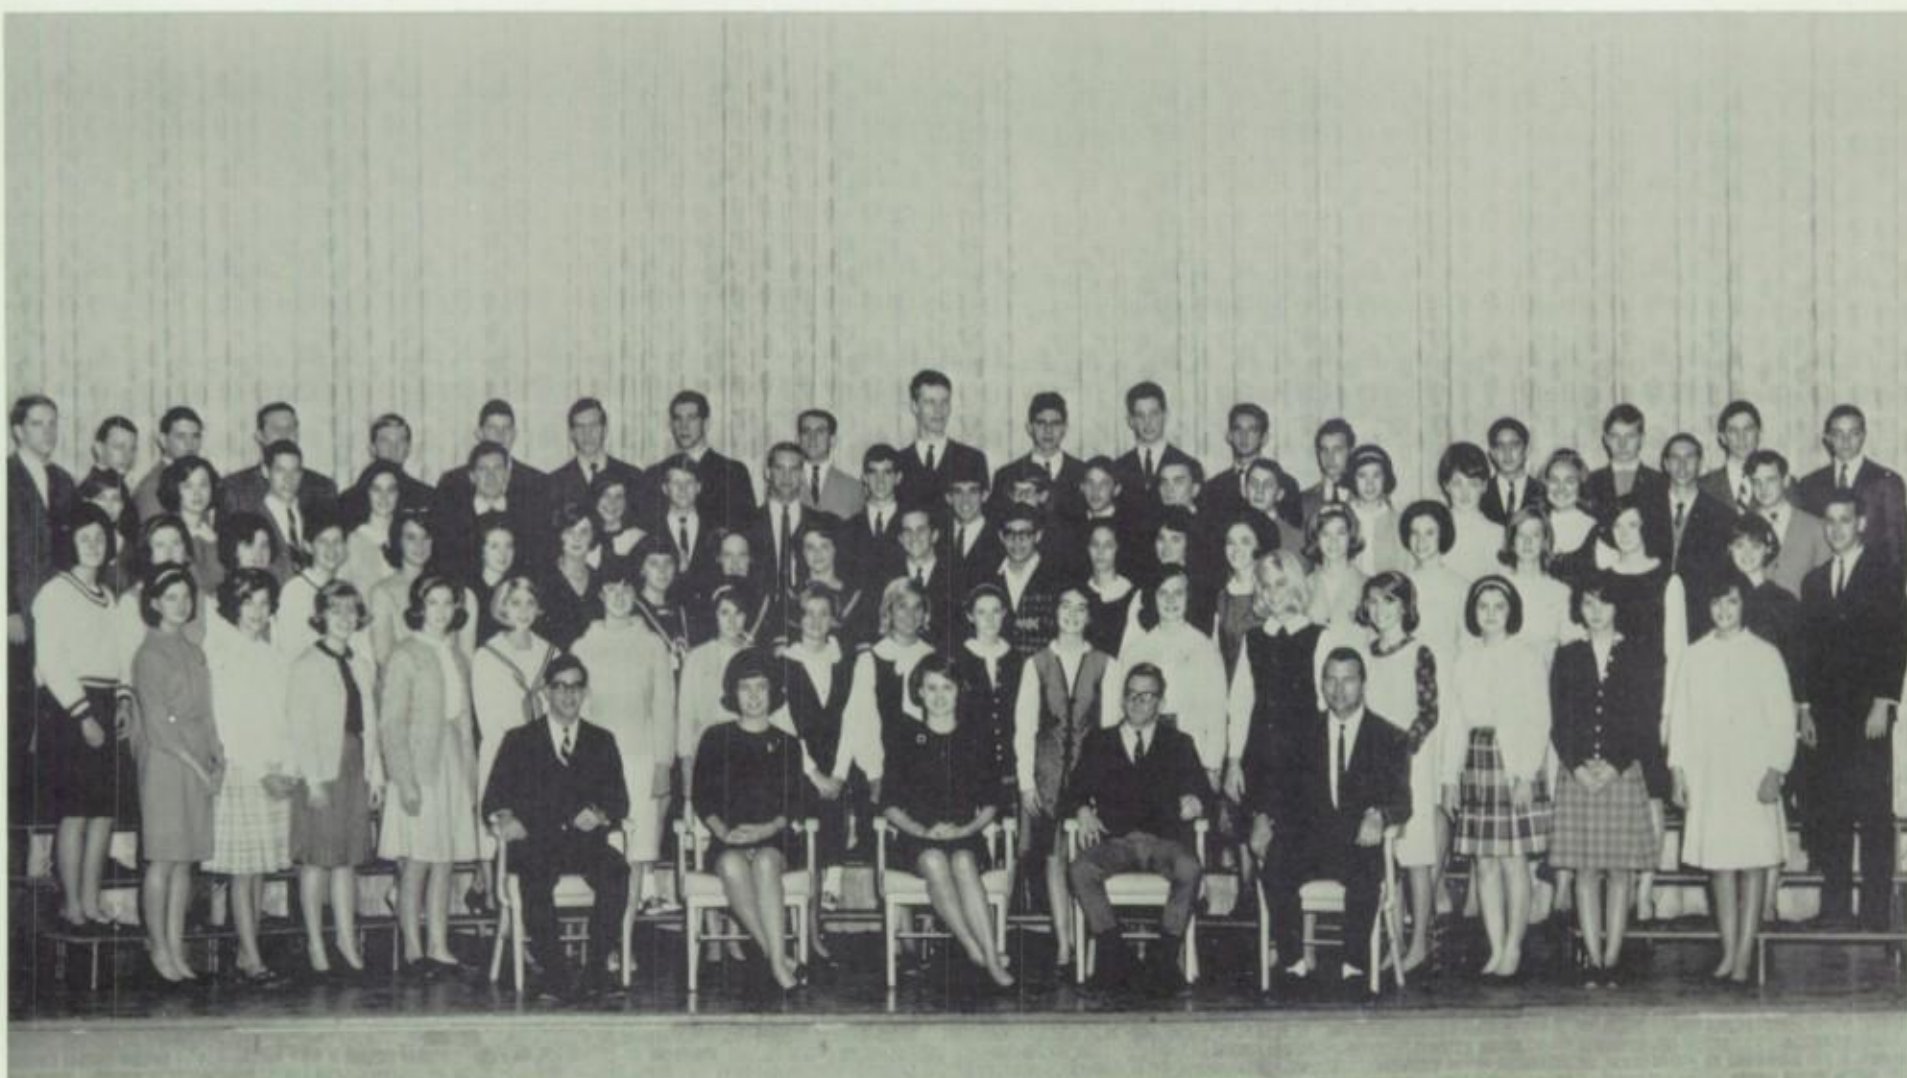

This year's Student Council has been ably led by officers Steve Kaplan, Scott Swearingen, Marsha Miller, and Linda Black.

Student Council

President Steve Kaplan presides over all weekly Student Council meetings.

Student Council members are elected from their respective homerooms for their honesty, leadership, and ability to serve.

Honor Commission

Honesty, being an intangible quality, is difficult to achieve, but it is the goal of Edison Junior High School's Honor Commission, the only organization of its kind in the nation. With their sponsors, Miss Deaton and Mr. Settle, Honor Commission members attempt to promote integrity throughout the junior high with speeches and posters. The members are upperclassmen chosen by the faculty to serve on the Commission.

When cheating is reported, members talk to the class about the importance of honesty.

Officers are Mark Singer, Page Barton, Jane Fredenberger, Cathy Lindsay, Gail Zarrow, and Paula Wood.

Thomas Alva Edison's Junior High School Student Council has a philosophy aimed at the general welfare of the school. It attempts to give all students a voice in their school government, to encourage loyalty to the school, and to promote a full appreciation of our privileges as Americans. Teacher Appreciation Day culminates the Council's "Know Your Teacher" campaign.

The Student Council is proud that its president Mark Singer served as parliamentarian for Junior Scot, a city-wide Junior High Student Council organization. Mr. Gerard is the Council's sponsor.

Mr. Gerard, sponsor, gives instructions to vice-president, Page Barton.

Cheering spirit supporting our successful teams radiates from Talons, Edison's Pep Club. Members are sophomore, junior, and senior girls.

Talons

Talons display enthusiasm and school spirit at a pep rally led by Edison's famous Eddie Eagle.

Linda Martin, president, and Mrs. Hagedorn, sponsor, discuss ideas for promoting school spirit through Pep Club activities.

Through their enthusiastic support of all school athletic events, Edison's Talons stimulate much school spirit both within the school and during games. Voo-doo dolls, posters, pompoms, and mixers are but a few of their many projects and activities. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Judy Hagedorn, Talons are experiencing one of their most successful years, boasting an exceptionally large membership, which is always present to cheer our teams on to victory. The contagious enthusiasm of the leaders inspires the spectators to share in the school spirit, and parents find themselves becoming an integral part of the cheering section at athletic events. The cheerleaders work many hours away from school preparing and perfecting new routines. For the excellent service rendered, this group deserves recognition and thanks from the entire student body.

Pep Club meetings are held regularly on Friday mornings before school. Linda Martin is outlining forthcoming sports events for Talons members.

Edison cheerleaders, sporting their new green and white outfits, wait before presenting their spirit-rousing entertainment to the Pep Club.

Talons Officers for 1964-65 are Paula Stogner, treasurer; Linda Martin, president; Martha White, secretary; Susie Harbison, vice-president.

Junior Classical League members are students from Edison's Latin classes, which are taught by Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Duckworth.

Junior Classical League

Junior Classical League, sponsored by the American Classical League, is an international organization of Latin Clubs. Edison's chapter held a Saturnalia dinner before Christmas, and they were represented at the State planning convention in Bartlesville in February.

Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Duckworth are Edison's Latin Club sponsors. Ruth Folmar and Linton Turner represented Edison in the Oklahoma Junior Classical League's "Puella Notissima" and "Puer Notissimus" competitions.

Latin Club officers are Linton Turner, Vice-President; Kathy Cavert, Secretary; Paula Stogner, President; and Lonna Sumpter, Treasurer.

Linton Turner receives help from Mrs. Duckworth on a translation of Caesar's Commentaries.

"Le Cercle Français" was organized in 1956 in order to give all French students the opportunity to learn more about French people and their language. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Helen Carney, the club holds an annual breakfast and dinner in French style. A visit from France's Consul-General in Houston highlighted this year's activities. At the bi-monthly meetings, guest speakers talk to the members; foreign exchange students speak about their countries; films and slides are shown; and skits are presented by the members.

French Club

Jane Moore welcomes Monsieur Yves Rodrigues, French Consul-General at Houston, Texas, to Edison.

Edison's French Club attributes its large membership to its varied programs which stimulate interest in the French culture. It is noted as being one of the largest clubs at Edison.

Susan Sylvester learns office procedure by actual practice and on-the-job training.

Under the direction of Mrs. Zoe White, Kathie Hoar, Peggy Cantrell, and Shelly Floyd have served their school well as members of Aquillas.

Aquillas are found working in many fields of school service, one of which is the library, which requires training and patience.

Aquilla

Mrs. Duncan, school nurse, instructs Ann Todhunter in the fundamentals of first aid.

Organized by Mrs. Zoe White, the present sponsor, Aquillas has existed six years. The purpose of the group is to serve Edison Junior High School through assisting the office staff, counselors, nurse, and librarian.

Each year the Aquillas contribute a gift to some section of the school where it is most needed. These gifts are in addition to the regular activities of the organization, such as ushering at various events, serving as guides on Back-to-School Night, and helping with medical clinics throughout the city.

Club

Aquillas were energetically led this year by officers Jane Morrison, Donna Sanders, Cris Chandler, and Margie White.

Chosen to be members of Aquillas because of their outstanding leadership and grades, Aquillas assist in many different areas of the school.

Officers of Swimmettes are Pam Davis, vice-president; Judy Johnson, treasurer; Jane Musgrove, president; Jeanne Heuser, secretary; and Cindy Combs, historian.

Swimmettes smile with the completion of another successful act.

Diving is a specialty of Edison's synchronized swimming group.

In 1954, Miss Houston, organized the group called Swimmettes. The fifteen original members presented a water show, thus starting a tradition which has been repeated annually.

This year's show is entitled "It's a Small World". The scripts and costumes are created by the members themselves. New members are selected in the spring for the coming year after a Swimmette Workshop has been held.

Swimmettes

Our stagecraft director, Mr. Crowell, is hard at work planning for the coming school events.

Members of Stagecraft, under the direction of Mr. David Crowell, not only build the scenery used for plays, assemblies, and variety shows, but also operate the lighting, sound, and curtains during these productions. Since the fall of 1957 when the Stagecraft program began, these classes have constructed sets for over thirty plays. This program is offered to both girls and boys wherein they have the opportunity to put to use their talents in construction and painting.

Students who are interested in pursuing a career in drama find this class interesting and extremely beneficial in preparing for future work in the theatre. The atmosphere in which the class works is very similar to that of work in summer stock of legitimate theater and the permissiveness is conducive to real creativity, which accounts for the outstanding sets and scenery which have adorned Edison's stage for speech arts and class plays for the past eight years. It also accounts for the fervor and enthusiasm exhibited by the group on all the projects which are undertaken to enhance dramatic endeavors.

Established in 1929 the National Thespian Society is interested in bettering the position of Dramatic Arts in the secondary schools. This year Edison's Thespians produced "Scenes Night" in place of the annual Speech Arts play, consisting of various scenes of dramatic worth that show the many phases of drama. New members are initiated in May when they also have a picnic.

This very active organization provides the nucleus for all dramatic endeavors in the school. Their enthusiasm for theatrical artistry make them willing to assume any responsibility assigned them in various thespic productions. These duties range from work on scenery to acting and directing. This adaptability is a contributing factor to the many successful productions at Edison.

Thespians

Members of Thespians are those people who have completed one hundred working hours and have been initiated into the club.

Language Organizations

The German Club was organized on October 13, 1964 with Mrs. Globe as the sponsor. It was comprised of senior high school students from Edison, Hale and Rogers who were either currently enrolled in German or were interested in the language. Meetings are held in alternation schools twice a month. The name chosen for the club was the "Deutschverein" or "German Club". The purpose of the club is to explore, for edification and enjoyment, areas of German culture such as language, literature, and history, and to increase the student's practical use of German.

With the purpose of furthering international relations between the Spanish-speaking people and our own, The Spanish Club attempts to strengthen friendship through an understanding of the language and customs. Besides having many notable speakers at their meetings, the highlights of this year include a Spanish Club dance in honor of Edison's exchange students from Mexico.

Members of Red Cross, elected to represent their homerooms, are chosen at the beginning of the school term to serve throughout the year. One of their greatest responsibilities is the collection of donations during their enrollment drive.

Red Cross

This year's Junior Red Cross is proud of having doubled 1964-1965's collection in the enrollment drive. Edison's Red Cross participated in the United Fund Drive and the Christmas dinner for the John 3:16 Mission.

The filling of Christmas stockings for the Children's Hospitals, the Red Cross assembly, and Grab Bag headed the year's list of activities.

The Junior High Red Cross is led by officers Beth DeMerritt, Kathy Valant, Sally Martin, and Tom Bayless.

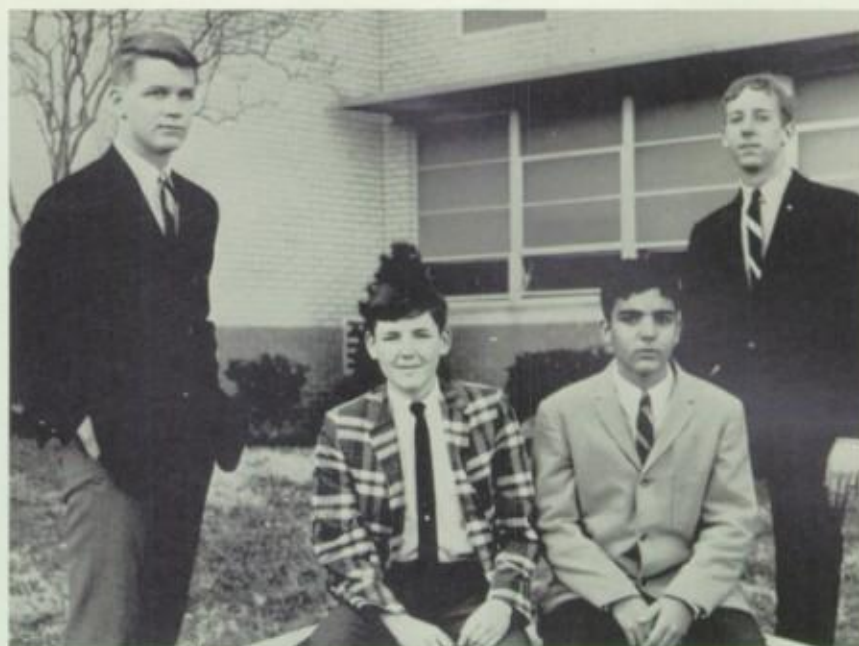

The Junior Red Cross was led this year by Bob Beecher president; Larry Cowan, vice-president; Sue Wiedemann, secretary; Robin Reeve, reporter; Merry Ellen Evans, program chairman.

Glenn Miller, K-Club sponsor, discusses the possibility of K-Club membership with two of his students.

K-Club

K-Club was capably led in 1964-65 by: vice-president, Bob Farris; treasurer, Phil Hammond; secretary, Randy Bayouth; and president, Kent Francy.

The K-Club is a service organization sponsored by the Utica Square Kiwanis Club. The boys are outstanding leaders and citizens who work for the betterment of the community as well as the school. Under capable leadership, the boys operate the lost and found, and strive to set an example of good citizenship for their fellow students to follow. They act as hosts and guides for junior high functions and share the responsibility of school activities which involve student participation. Funds are raised each year to pay for a special project which improves their school in some way.

Edisonites interested in medicine learn more about this field in the Medical Club, which is sponsored by Mrs. Naomi Peder-son. Club members visited the Oklahoma City Medical School and Saint Francis Hospital. Meetings featured talks on vari-ous types of medicine including nursing, pathology, obstetrics, pediatric allergies, plastic surgery, and ophthalmology.

John Munneke studies a microscopic animal in a biology laboratory session.

Medical Club officers are: Patty Akin, executive secretary; Kathy Brown, secretary-treasurer; Stuart Rosenthal, president; and Earl Elliot, vice-president.

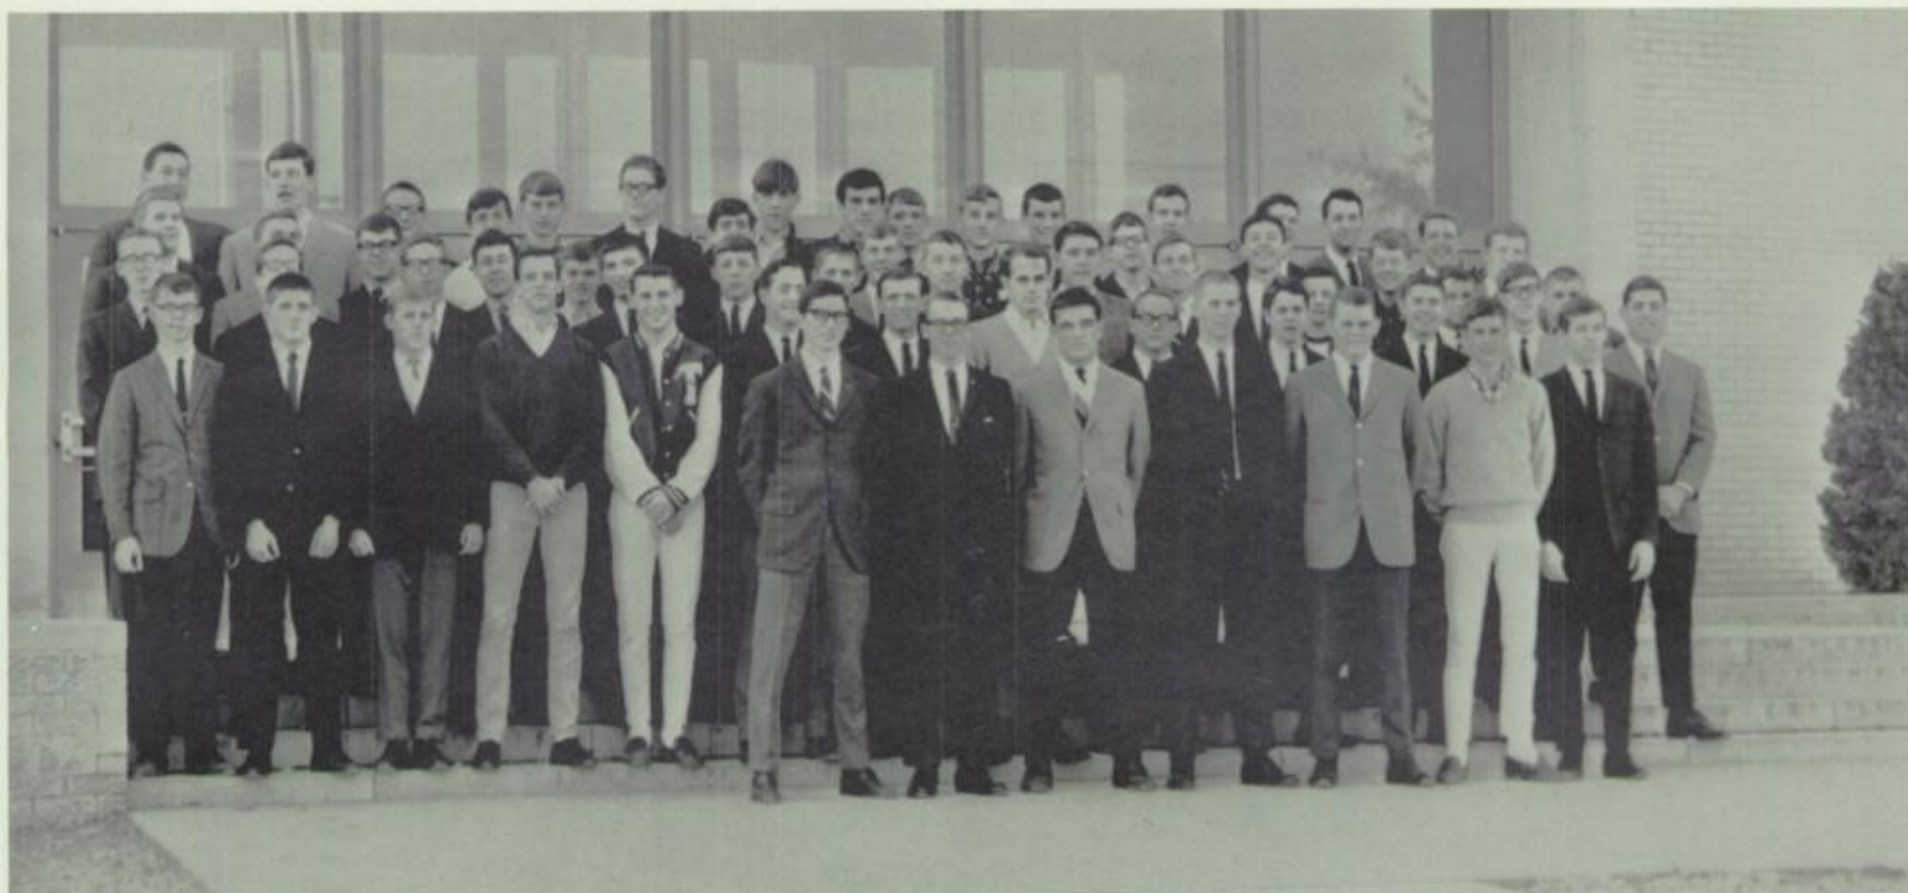

Medical Club

The officers learned many things from the head pathologist at Saint Francis Hospital.

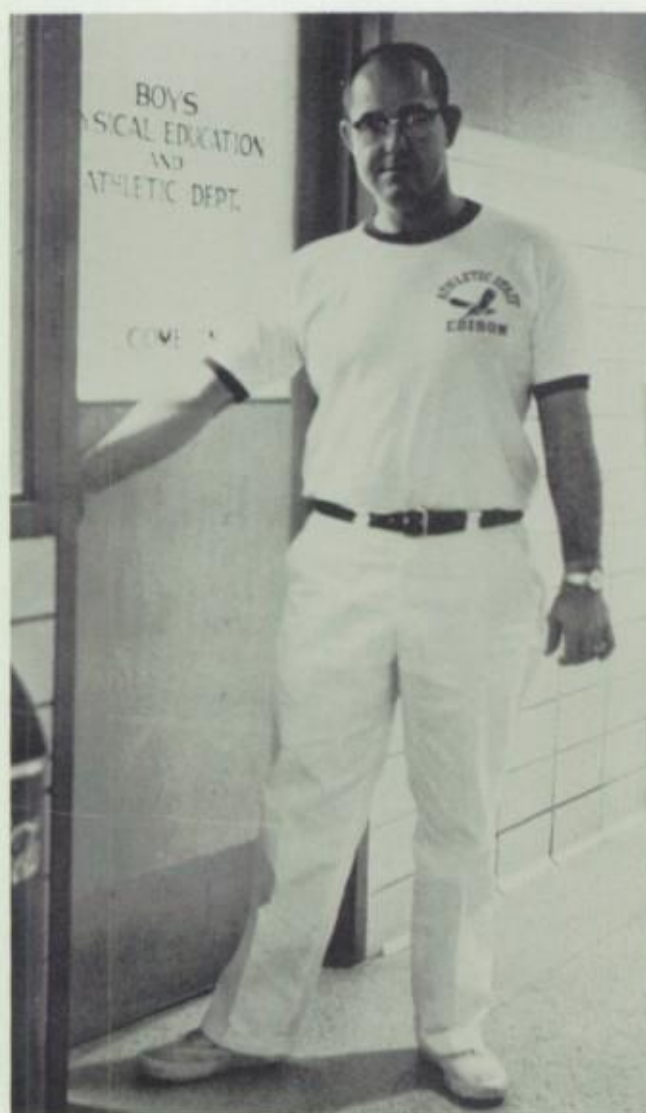

Edison's Medical Club is made up of students interested in careers of medicine and science, and their interests cover many specialized areas.

Edison's most outstanding athletes are these boys who are members of the Lettermen's Club. Each of them has achieved a letter in football, basketball, cross-country, track, wrestling, tennis, baseball, swimming, or golf.

Lettermen's Club

Since the Edison Lettermen felt the need for a boys' school spirit organization, they re-established the Edison Lettermen's Club in the fall of 1964. Lettermen sell coffee and donuts at teachers' meetings, and usher at Back-to-School night. They also line the football field at half-time, sell popcorn after school, and elect athlete of the month.

Under the direction of Tom Langham, the Edison Lettermen's Club has seen one of its most successful years.

Officers of Lettermen's Club are: Richard Slicker, Tom Thralls, president, Bill Goggin, seated; Archie Harrison, Bob Dillman, Russell Bock, standing.

Edison is very proud of its Concert Band, which has performed magnificently throughout the year, directed by Mr. Ashley Alexander.

The Band's Winter Concert on January 29 was highlighted by the crowning of Linda Hunter as Band Queen. Cheryl Coiner was honored as Senior Attendant, Jane Wilder was chosen Junior Attendant, and Sharon Gilmore, Sophomore Attendant.

By performing in various assemblies throughout the year, the band has added greatly to the aesthetic enjoyment of the entire student body. Their selections range from the new and popular to the established classics.

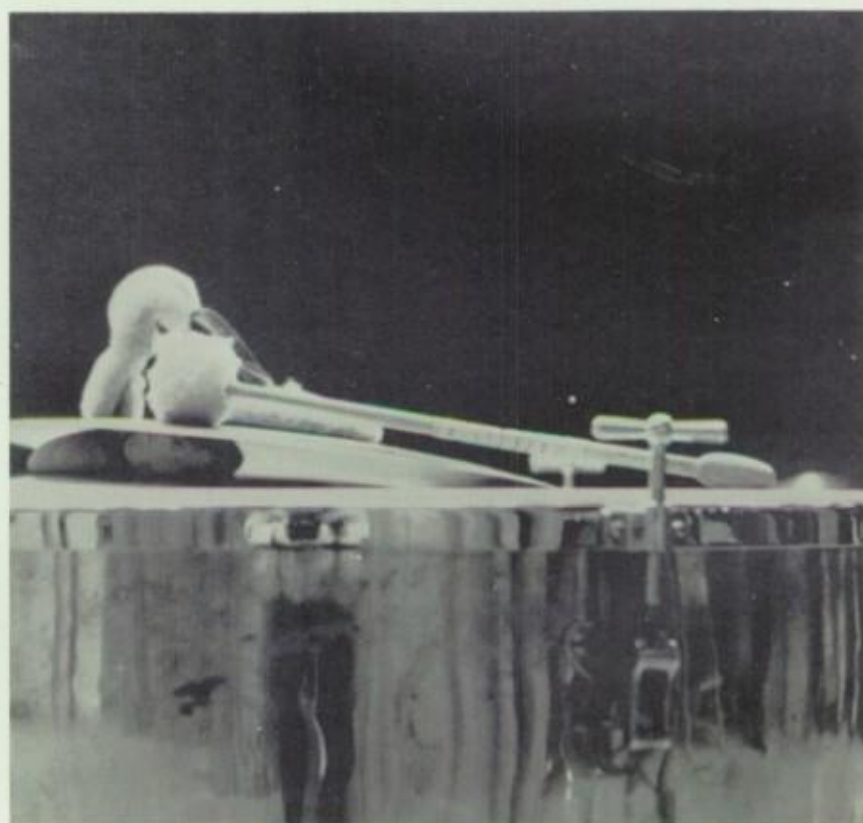

Concert

Mr. Ashley Alexander, new to Edison this year, has proved to be an outstanding director of the Concert Band.

Edison girls work in the library, nurse's and counselors' offices, and the scheduling and main offices during one of their class hours each day. Our school bank also attributes its efficiency to the skill of its student workers.

Girls who work in the attendance office help the Edison staff keep track of absentees each hour. They make a record of each student's school attendance.

Nurse's office assistants are Marilyn Blufston, Cheryl Bennett, Kay Roby, Vickie Crosser, and Rhonda Midgley.

Marilyn Sparks, Andy Smith, Gail Brown, Susie Dodd, Della Kroeze, and Anna Harwood do numerous tasks to help Edison's counselors and coaches in their busy offices.

Diligent practice led the way toward Eagle victories.

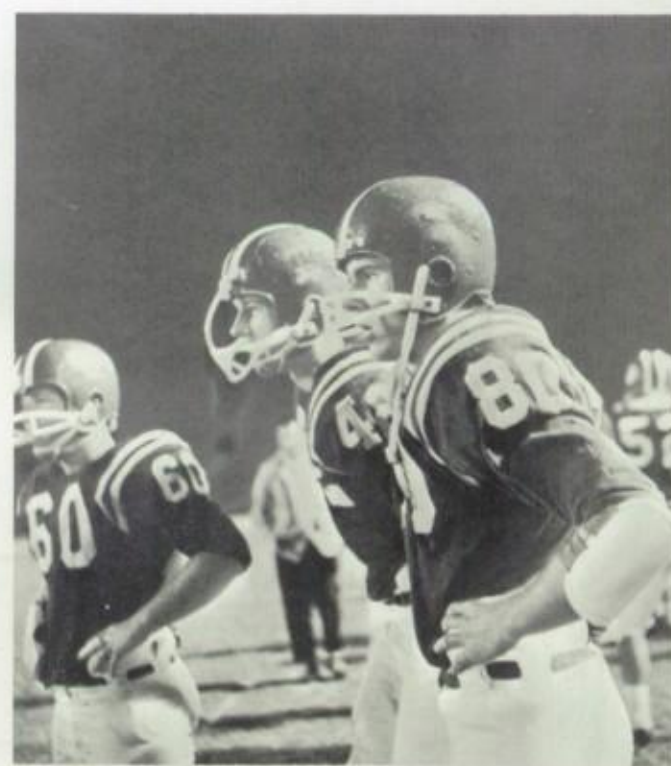

During the 1964 season, the Eagles played against some of the top powers in the state. Although they were defeated many times, the games were much closer than the scores would indicate. In many games the Eagles outranked their opponents in everything except the final score.

In an offensive battle, the Ponca City Wildcats downed Edison 27-12. Quarterback Kermit Holderman was the driving force in the Eagle attack. He led Edison on marches between the twenty yard lines, but the Eagles could not score despite a closeness to the goal line.

The underdog Eagles defeated the Bartlesville Wildcats 20-7 for an upset victory. This contest marked the most points scored against Bartlesville this season. Randy Purdy passed for three touchdowns to subdue the Bartians.

The Eagles never had more desire to win than they did against the McLain Scots. They capitalized on a fumble and a pass interception to roll to their first victory of the season. The Eagles who were defense-minded held the Scots to just three first downs and 100 yards in total offense. The final score was 22-0 and the Eagles received a moral victory against the McLain team.

At the end of the season the coaches of the Oklahoma-Seven Conference vote for the outstanding players in each offensive and defensive position. Bob Dillman received this honor for his skill at center.

With thirteen returning lettermen, several rising sophomores such as Bill Strong, and many other outstanding boys, it is no wonder that swimming records fell. Diver Luther Like reached a startling career high of 302.25 points, lacking a heartbreaking .65 points of reaching All-American at State. Diver Robert Farrell, too, gave a consistently superior performance, as did Robert Rorschach. Among several individual record-breakers were Jacques Cunningham and Tom Thralls. Relay teams slashed times. In the All-City the 160-yard medley relay team, consisting of John Teal, Bill White, Pat Bryant and Tom Gilliland, broke its own record, set in the preliminaries, with a time of 1:23.7. A new Oklahoma Seven Conference record of 1:11.6 was set by the 160-yard freestyle relay team, which includes Tom Gilliland, Bruce Hicks, Bill Strong and Jacques Cunningham. All in all, many impressive times, split-second finishes, and noteworthy efforts provided an exciting season. Congratulations to the boys and their coach on their fine success!

Under the guidance of Coach Jim Sellers, Edison's wrestlers have added another successful year to what has been a very impressive record. Led by senior co-captains Lloyd Barron and David Williams, the matmen have downed eight opponents and have gained a tie for the conference championship. It was typical for Edison to be behind after the first few matches because of weaknesses in the lighter weights. However, its superiority in the heavier weights provided many exciting, come-from-behind victories. Boys most responsible for the comebacks were David Williams, Gary Gomez, who lost only one match all year, Lloyd Barron, and Archie Harrison. With five sophomores in this year's varsity, things look very promising in the years to come.

The one great performer for the A-squad for the past three years, Marty Brown, best outside shooter in the conference and record holder of over 350 points, surpassing former Edison great Don Patterson who chalked up 309 in 1961, took the lead with 327 points after nineteen games. He averaged seventeen points a game, and was second highest scorer in the conference in average.

Behind Brown was the ever-rugged Richard Slicker, who raced to over 225 points for an 11-point average, and used his ball-hawking abilities as a delight to the fans. Third senior starter of the year was 5-10 Bruce Riddle, who teamed with Slicker for interceptions and fast breaks, had over 150 points and averaged seven points a game.

Two junior starters, David Wagenblatt and George Conger will be back next year to raise the Eagle fortunes even higher, and they will be a fine pair to build from.

Wagenblatt was second to Brown in scoring, hitting almost 250 points for an 11.5 average, and teammate Conger controlling the boards and adding over 125 points of his own.

under Coach Shell.

Edison's high-flying basketballers got off the ground with a spurt this year, closing out the regular season with twelve victories against setbacks, and proving that winning Eagle basketball has been revived under new coach Gene Shell.

Edison opened the season in the Hale tournament, losing their first game to the Hale Rangers, but coming back hard to whip Muskogee and Memorial for fifth in the tourney. During the Oklahoma Seven conference action Edison racked up two victories each over Hale and Rogers, and scored wins over Bartlesville and Muskogee. They made another conquest over ninth-ranked Ponca City, 62-52, which finished second in the loop just a game ahead of the third-place Eagles, 7-5 in league competition. Edison also trounced Webster, 79-69 in the Miami Tourney, barely losing in the semifinals to Washington, 40-38 in overtime. During the season they also put the flame to arch-rival Memorial, burning them up in a 22-5 first quarter shooting spectacular, then scored with all twelve squadmen to slap a 79-33 defeat on the Chargers.

Coach Pierce explains the strategy for an upcoming meet.

Steve Quinn and John Dratz, Edison's top cross country runners, fight for the lead.

We at Edison have a right to be proud of this year's cross country team. The team fared very well in city competition. Teams from all parts of the state participated in the first annual Edison Invitational cross country meet. Credit for a fine season is due to Coach Hugh Pierce. The boys themselves worked hard for the success of the team. John Dratz gave a tremendous effort for the team throughout the season. Sophomores Steve Quinn and Steve Goad also showed their determination for victory. But cross country is a team sport. Every boy worked very hard and deserves to be recognized. If such an attitude continues, hopes are high for continued success in coming years. Many of the boys in cross country will also be running in track.

Last year, the track team was very successful as it won the state championship. Although track suffered the loss of such super-stars as Ben Henneke, Larry Purdy, and Thom Ashby, many lettermen are returning. The concern for the standing of the team, exhibited by everyone last year, is still present. Under the guidance of Coach Hugh Pierce, the boys have been working out during the winter months and were ready to begin a new season when spring rolled around.

Edison's tennis team, guided by Coach Tom Langham, enjoyed a fine season. This year the team faced such perennial state powers as Bartlesville and Ponca City, and was hard pressed for victories. The supreme test came when the tennis team met its conference foes in the annual Oklahoma Seven Conference tournament for the conference championship. Returning lettermen Gary Williams and Jeff King and several rising newcomers worked together to contribute to success.

Edison's baseball squad, dominated almost completely by juniors and sophomores last year, figures to improve on last year's 7-9 record under new Edison coach Don Phillips. Seasoned performers are back to fill every position, and with the right breaks Edison should compete well against Central, Ponca City, and Bartlesville in the northern division of the Oklahoma Seven, and even better against non-loop foes.

Returning are catcher Steve Sanders, a .325 hitter who was selected for the top nine in the all-city squad; and Lloyd Barron, Eagle outfielder who also had a .325 mark while picked to the all-city squad top nine. Other Eagles in the apparent bottomless pit of Edison talent are Richard Slicker, a southpaw rated as the top pitching prospect in the league this year, and who last year hurled two no-hitters; Marty Brown, who came along rapidly as the season progressed last year and should hit for the distance as well as fill the tough shortstop position; and highly-rated pitcher Tom Rothrock, who can also play the outfield.

Scott Harrington returns to fill the second base position and should provide an excellent double-play combination with Brown. Grady Nichols, tall Edison first-sacker, and Gary Brannick, who should make third base stable, return. Letterman Tim Curry is back for another shot at the infield positions, while Randy Purdy is a fast-flying outfielder who should aid the defense greatly. Frank Klucvsek, part-time starter last year, should add power to the Edison line-up when needed; and Russel Bock, a fine ballplayer and part-time starter last year at shortstop, finds himself amid a flock of veteran performers but has a good chance of filling his favorite position.

Overcome with emotion, Steve humbly accepts the royal scepter, signifying his reign as Mr. Edison.

Each year the student body chooses one senior boy to receive the most coveted award of our school. This award represents the culmination of three years of devoted, tireless work for Edison. This year the students presented this award to Steve Kaplan.

Steve distinguished himself during his years at Edison through his painstaking work for the student body. In serving his fellow students, Steve exemplified the qualities which have made him successful. His leadership, personality, and devotion to his school have distinguished Steve Kaplan as Mr. Edison V.

Mr. Edison V and

Linda Black and Richard Slicker, Most School Spirited; and Janet Cockriel and Drew Neville, Most Dependable.

Marsha Miller and David Dimit, Best Worker; Alan Fedman and Janine Henshaw, Most Deserving; Francie Marks and Steve Kaplan, Most Likely to Succeed.

Melanie Bates and Russell Bock, Best Student; Susie Wyant and Frank Mantooth, Most Talented.

Student Superlatives

Student Superlative nominees are selected by homerooms and voted on by the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior Boards. On the final ballot, winners may be from any of the three classes, but preliminary voting is restricted to the respective grades. A boy and girl are chosen for each classification who best personify the qualifications indicated by the title of the category.

Judy Johnson and Bob Dillman, Best Sport; Linda Black and Jack Wimbish, Most Friendly; Marilyn Sparks and Henry Eddins, Most Polite.

Miss Junior Edison I and Mr. Junior Edison I
Stephanie Smith and Kent Francy

Edison Junior High is beginning a tradition of Miss Junior Edison and Mr. Junior Edison. These titles represent the outstanding junior high students in leadership, scholarship and personality. The best all around students are recognized in the receiving of this honor.

Miss Junior Edison I is Stephanie Smith. Stephanie was president of her homeroom and on the honor roll in the seventh grade. She was on the honor roll and a member of the Student Council in her eighth grade year. In the ninth grade, Stephanie was on the honor roll, on the advertising board, a member of Aquillas, and was secretary of the ninth grade class. She is well-liked by all her fellow students because of her exuberant personality.

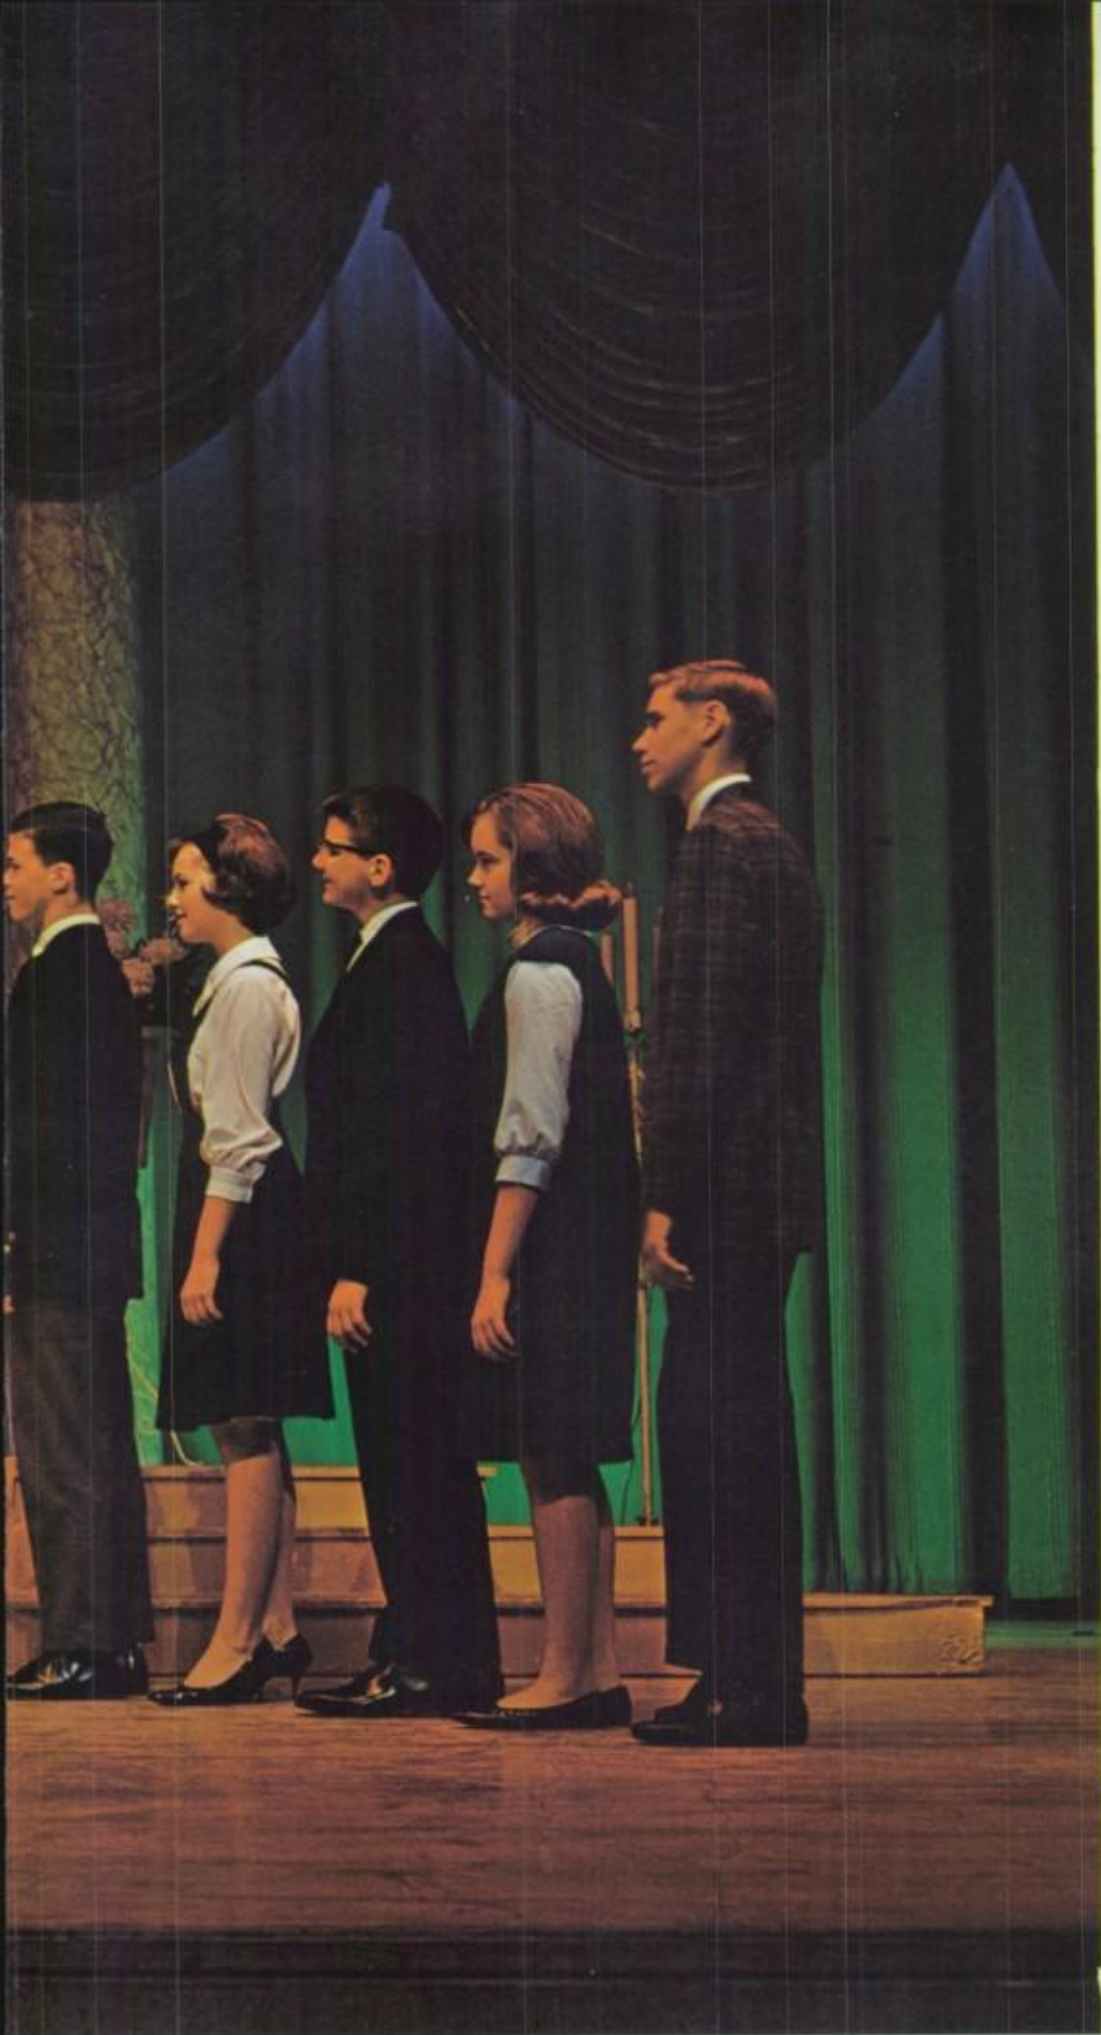

Mr. Junior Edison I was Kent Francy. Kent has been a member of the football and basketball teams for three years. In the seventh grade, Kent was on the Advertising Board. While as an eighth grader, he was President of his class, and in the Honor Commission. As a ninth grader, Kent was President of the K-Club, and was the recipient of the Masonic Award for being the most outstanding ninth grade boy.

Classes

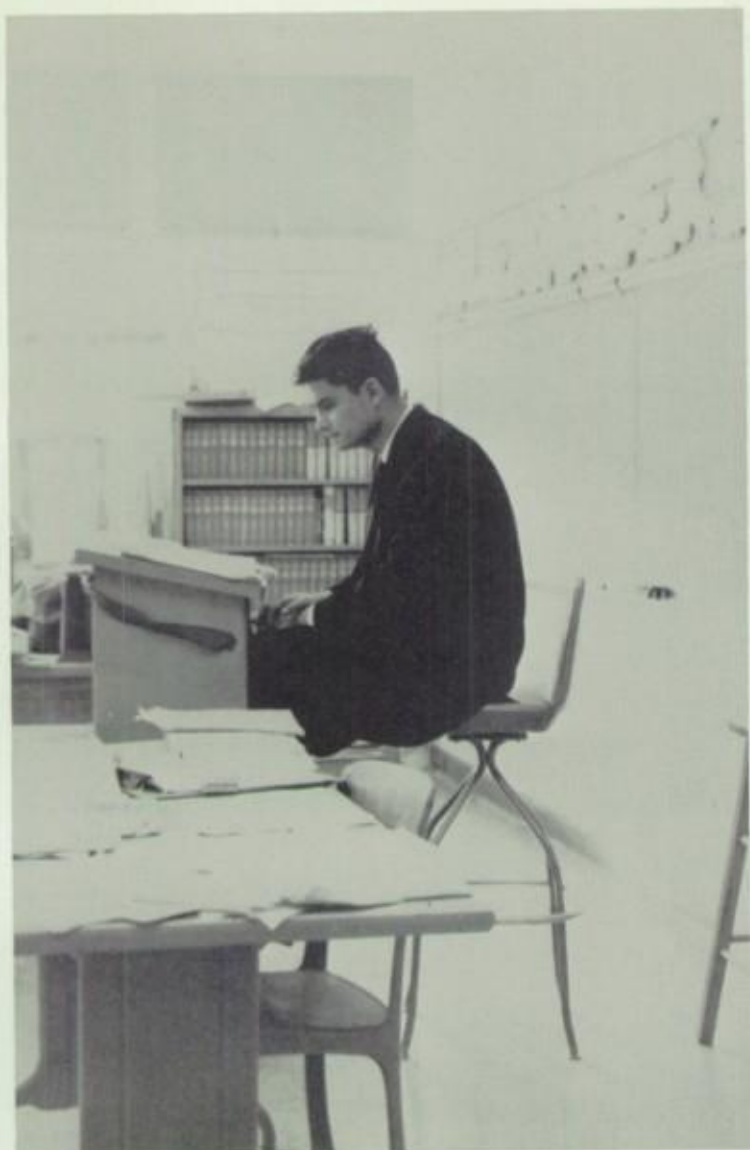

Edison's senior class officers for 1964-65 are president, Drew Neville; secretary, Janet Cockriel; vice-president, Jim Kothe; social chairman, Melanie Bates; treasurer, David Dimit.

Summertime is no cessation of work for the senior officers who met and planned many of the year's activities before school began.

Senior officers

Our senior class of 1965 is one that will never be forgotten at Edison. We began our year with the impressive figure of 26 National Merit Semifinalists and coming from behind, we made our senior class play, Ondine, one of the most successful plays ever presented at Edison both dramatically and financially. Our coronation mixer marked the beginning of many senior mixers and dances, climaxed by the annual Christmas dance, the Snow Ball. Our senior class had many firsts: a different Miss Can, and a trophy with all the names of the football queens inscribed on it. We have preserved such traditions as Miss Edison, Mr. Slob, and Mr. Edison. In addition, through the able leadership of our senior board and particularly the dedication of our class sponsor, Mr. Larry Alexander, we know that the memories we take with us from Edison, as we go our separate ways, will never leave our hearts even when the doors of our great high school close behind us for the last time.

In addition to his five history classes, Mr. Alexander serves as the senior class sponsor providing the excellent leadership which has made Edison's senior classes so successful.

Taking an active part in the senior watermelon feast are Steve Reese, Wally Exon, and Bobby Becher.

Trying to win the car-decorating contest are DeeDee Knapp, Lee Price, Marshall Hunt, DeeAnn Potter and Larry Miner.

The Senior Board is made up of representatives elected each year by the homerooms.

Junior

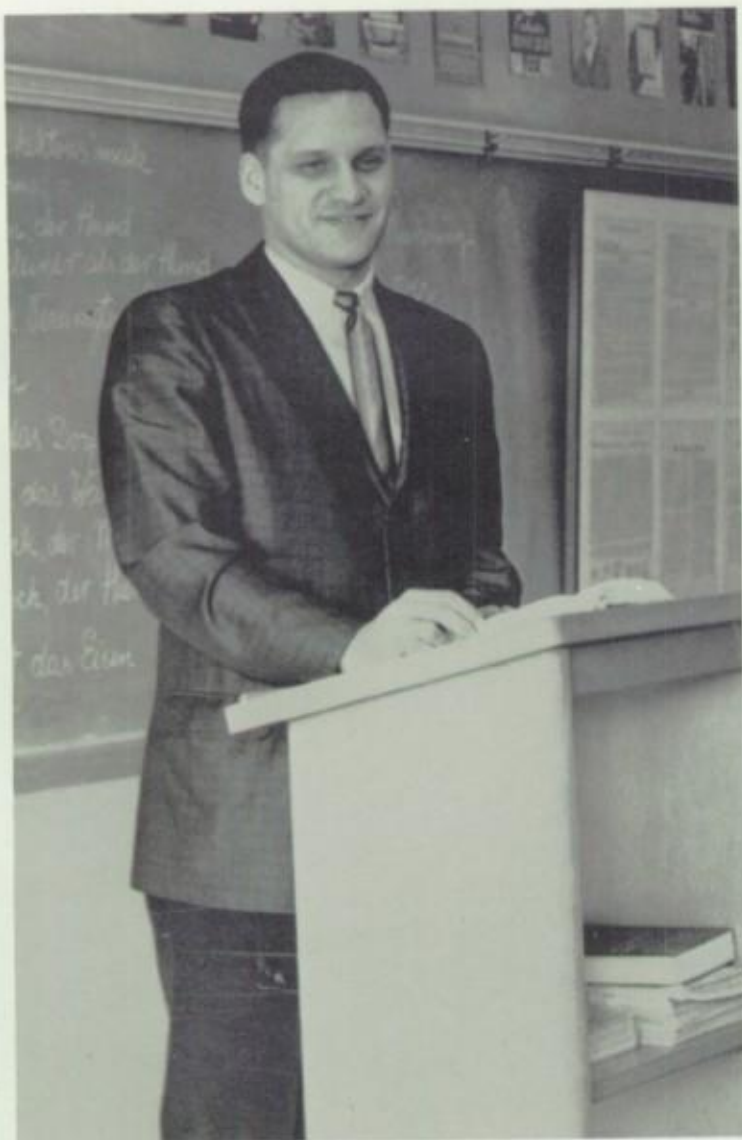

Juniors enjoy a year of growth, learning, and achievement in both academic and social life. Through the fine leadership of the officers, Bill White, president; Richard Schermerhorn, vice-president; Lucy Murray, secretary; Gerry Sobel, treasurer; and Sandy Bodley, social chairman, and the help of Junior Board and Mr. John Butts, class sponsor, the Junior class excels.

Juniors plan and support class functions with ingenuity and enthusiasm. By taking part in activities like the Junior Mixer, the hilarious class play Farewell, Farewell, Eugene, and the annual Spring Dance, they find friends, satisfaction, and never-to-be-forgotten experiences.

For Juniors this is a year of new responsibilities, goals, and plans for the future. With the ingredients of talent, enthusiasm, and excellence, the class of 1966 is recognized as a superior group.

Officers look forward to holiday festivities.

Sophomore officers are: Melissa Potter, secretary; Peggy Easter, social-chairman; Sandy Winter, treasurer; Charles McKee, president; and Diana Donkin, vice-president.

Sophomores

Sophomore's first year in Edison High School is a big step in an entire new phase in their teen years. To orientate the new students and to introduce them formally to Thomas Edison, the movie, "Edison, the Man", was shown on February 8. To help make the year more interesting and fulfilling, the sophomores held one mixer and one dance. They also sponsored a very successful film, "To Catch A Thief", on Friday, November 6 and presented a play on March 19-20. At Christmas time, the class donated a revolving Christmas tree to the Tulsa Boys' Home. They actively participated in the all school can goods drive, bringing in over 2,500 cans. Also, Dress-Up Day proved favorable to all students. The officers, along with their able faculty sponsor, Mr. Bardrick, and also the willing and volunteering sophomores who accepted many undertakings, have contributed much to make the 1964-65 school year one to remember.

Mr. Bardrick, sophomore class sponsor, wholeheartedly supports the endeavors of the class of 1967.

The sophomores annually decorate a Christmas tree.

At meetings held to discuss plans for their class, the officers often combine business with pleasure.

Freshmen

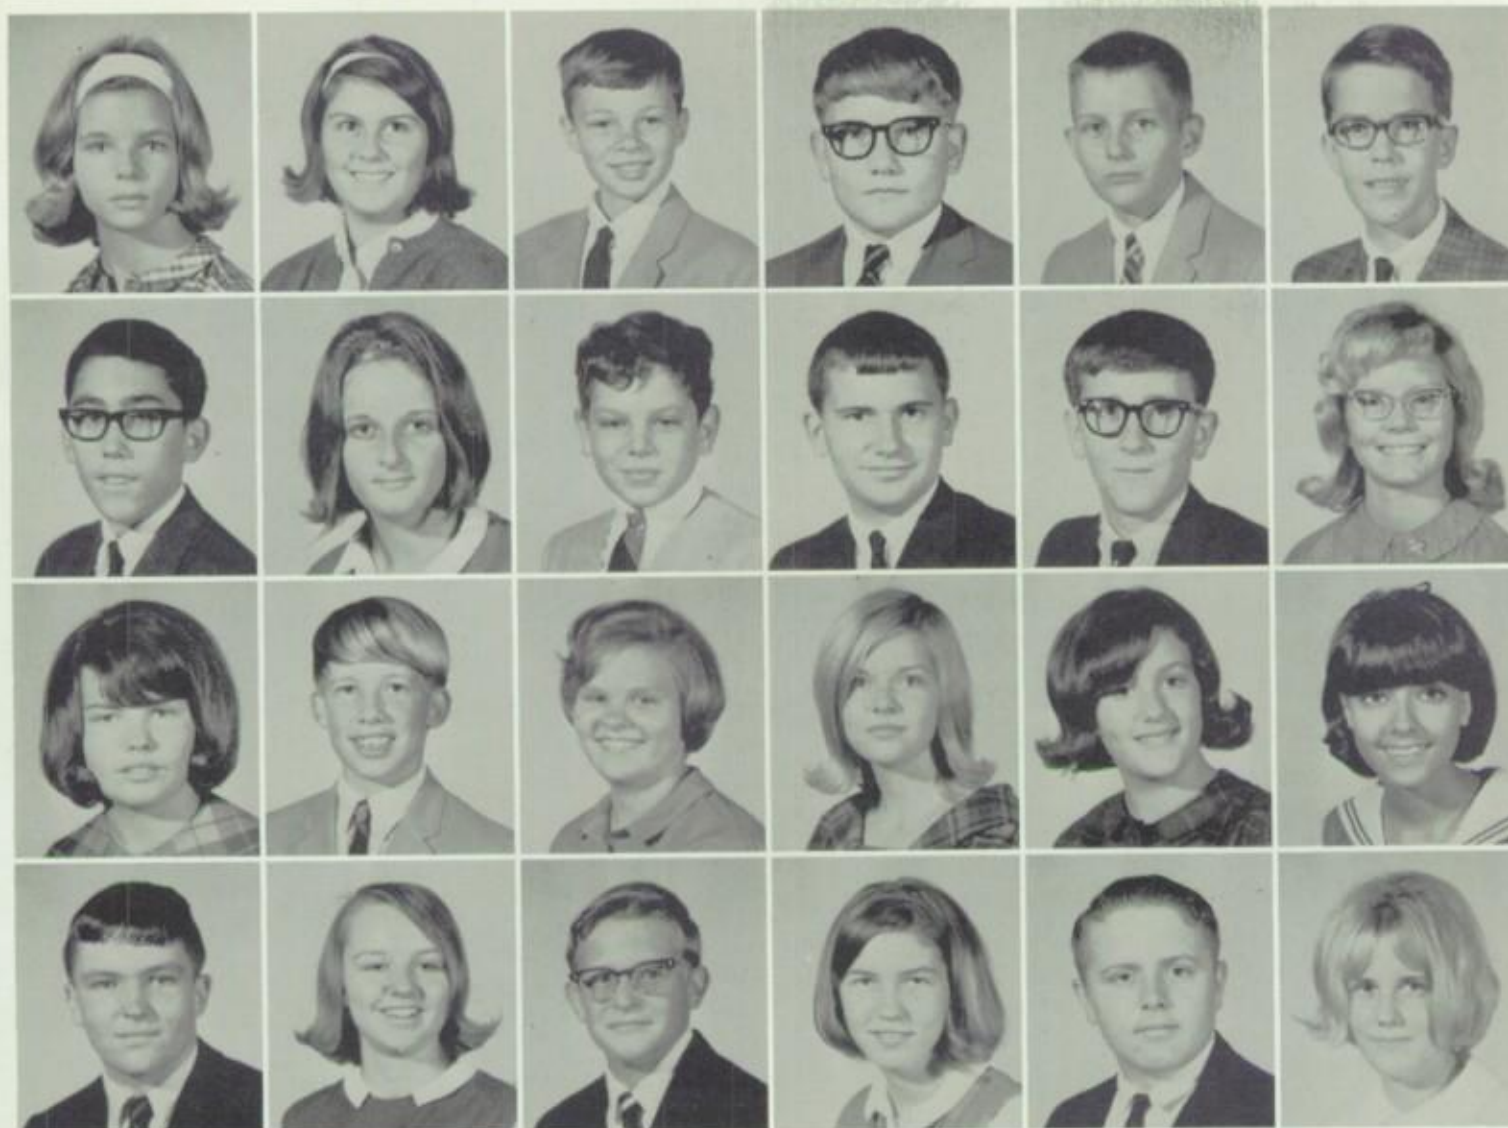

A banner year has just closed for Edison's freshman class. While they have mixed fun with study, they have earned numerous laurels to be added to the illustrious records of Edison Junior High School. The ninth-grade class has enjoyed remarkable success in its numerous endeavors, including its dance and play. Indeed, as the freshmen reminisce, they will have nostalgic memories of most rewarding and worthwhile experiences.

Planning for an important project, the freshman officers confer with Mr. Russell Rathjens.

Taking a moment from their strenuous activities, the ninth-grade officers rest by the fireside.

Eighth grade

The eighth grade officers do their best to provide their fellow students with a successful, enjoyable year. Activities designed to obtain this goal range from homeroom aid for needy families during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays to a dance held in conjunction with the ninth grade. Setting an example for their classmates are Chris Beeson, president; Ruth Shapiro, vice-president; Susan Wilbanks, secretary; and Sally Martin, treasurer.

The class officers lead their fellow students to greater achievement.

Living dangerously, the eighth grade officers find adventure as they progress through school.

Seventh graders

Seventh graders have made many changes this year. They have made new friends and have established a feeling of cooperation and unity among their class. They have also learned to share, study, and work. Officers are Stephanie Eley, secretary; Debby Chatenever, vice-president; Marty Wagblatt, treasurer; and Bobby Nelson, president.

Stephanie and Marty find relaxation by going to a park.
